The red and the white and the blue—symbolic of him, our classmate . . . He was a student . . . It isn't hard to remember when he crammed for a six weeks' test, because it wasn't very long ago . . . He was a lot of fun and a "good guy" . . . Even though he never passed that physics course . . . But the war came, and they called him for active duty . . . He learned to shoot a gun and stick a bayonet into a Jerry or a Jap . . . He suffered the siege of the Solomons and the cold of Alaska
. . . When they stormed Tunis he was there . . . He'd think of all of us here at home, and it seemed as though he ought to defend those stars and stripes
—which meant his freedom and ours
. . . We won't forget his part in the "Unfinished Business."

S E N I O R S

BRUCE WILLIAM ALCOCK—The better man—the better deed.

FERN L. ALLEN—When the heart is won, the understanding is easily convinced.

WAYNE E. ARMSTRONG—His by word is sports.

ELIZABETH ANNE BAUMGARTNER—She is pretty to walk with, witty to talk with, and pleasant, too, to think on.

ROBERT D. BEACH—Wit is, in general, the finest sense in the world. Bob Beach

ILA ROSE BETTINGER—Happy am I, from care I am free—why aren't they all content like me?

HAZEL ANNA BLOOM—There's no wisdom like frankness.

JEANNE LOUISE BOWERS—Unto the pure all things are pure.

NORMAN D. BOWERS—Gentleness and affability conquer at last.

EDWIN E. BRATTAIN—Men show their character in nothing more clearly than by what they think laughable.

JUANITA A. BREIER—The finest compliment that can be paid to a woman is to address her as such.

LEROY DANIEL BREIER—Quality, not quantity, is my measure.

DONALD WILLIAM BRINING—My side of the argument is the right side.

COLLEEN M. BROCK—Heart on her lip and soul within her eyes.

CAROLYN G. CHANDLER—Sincerity, truth, faithfulness come into the very essence of friendship.

One, two, three—pull!

JAMES JUNIOR CHRISTENSEN—Is it a world to hide virtues in?

OSIE BELL COLEMAN—Kind words produce their own image in men's souls, and a beautiful image it is.

WAYVA JOANNE COMSTOCK — Inner sunshine warms not only the heart of the owner, but all who come in contact with it.

DORIS M. CONDON — Active always, smiling ever, witty and merry, decidedly clever.

JOANNE CATHERINE CORRIGAN—As merry as the day is long.

SUZANNE ELIZABETH CORRIGAN—Faithfulness and sincerity first of all.

HELEN JEAN COURTNEY—Simplicity of manner is the greatest attainment.

ROSE ANN CREQUE—It is tranquil people who accomplish much.

PRESTON CURRY—Life will never grow weary for me.

CARL F. DORCAS — An affable and courteous gentleman. Carl Dorcas

WAYNE WASHBURN FARLEY — The farmers are the founders of civilization.

DOROTHY DOLORES FILLION—There was never any heart truly great and generous that was not also tender and compassionate.

MARJORIE HELEN FISHER—A modest maid with thoughts sincere.

HAROLD E. FLAGG—He is a worthy gentleman, exceedingly well-read and profited in strange concealments.

ROBERT K. FOWLER—Teachers tell me I'd be the smartest boy in the class if I studied.

MARY ELIZABETH FOX—Moderation is the pleasure of the wise.

BETTE FRANKLIN—Even virtue is more fair when it appears in a lovely girl.

JUNE MARIE GARDNER—They say she is meek and modest, but we wonder what lies beneath.

RICHARD HAEFNER—I dare do all that may become a man; who dares do more is none.

RUDOLF HARTKOFF, JR.—You can do more good by being good than any other way.

JEANETTE M. HELMAN—Sweetness of smile indicates sweetness of character.

ALLEN M. HEWITT—It is not titles that reflect honor on men, but men on their tiles.

BETTY MARIE HILLER—The most manifest sign of wisdom is continued cheerfulness.

WALTER HOSKINS—This is a man.

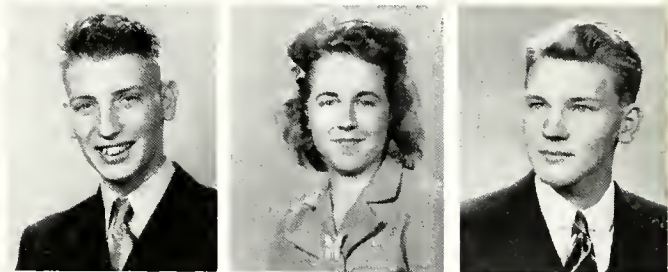

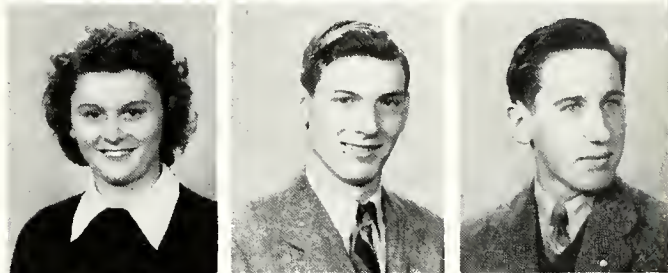

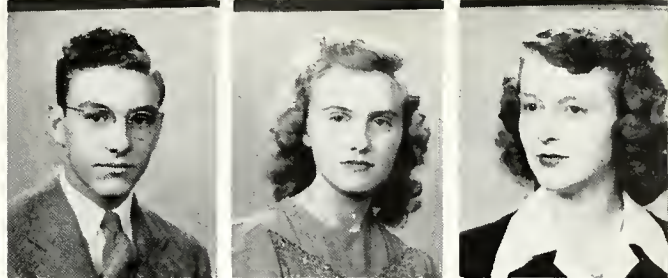

BETTE JANE HOTT—Charms strike the sight, but merit wins the soul.

GORDON RAYMOND HUSS—His hair is no more sunny than his heart.

BETTY JANE JACOBS—A kind heart is the fountain of gladness.

MARTHA JEAN JACOBS—Be not ashamed of thy virtues.

RICHARD JULIUS JENNEWINE—He is timid, he is shy, but there is mischief in his eye.

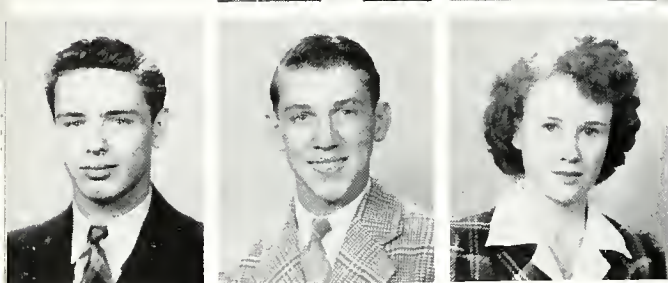

JOANNE KAISER—In life she is bound for success.

JOHN W. KITCHEN—Knowledge is our ultimate good.

DORIS ELLA KJOLLER—More than a penny for these worthy thoughts.

ROY HAROLD KNICELY—He is an inspiration to any woman.

EARL KRIEGER—It is a friendly heart that has plenty of friends.

EVELYN MAE KUBITZ—The reward of one duty is the power to fulfill another.

JEANNETTE EDITH KUBITZ—I shall either find a way or make one.

LOUISE ILA LADO—Quiet and wise as a little mouse, works well at every task.

PAUL J. LAJINESS—He's little, but so was Napoleon.

ROBERT F. LATHER—Let the path be open to talent.

RUTH LENERT—Is there anything in life so lovely and poetical as the laugh and merriment of a girl like this.

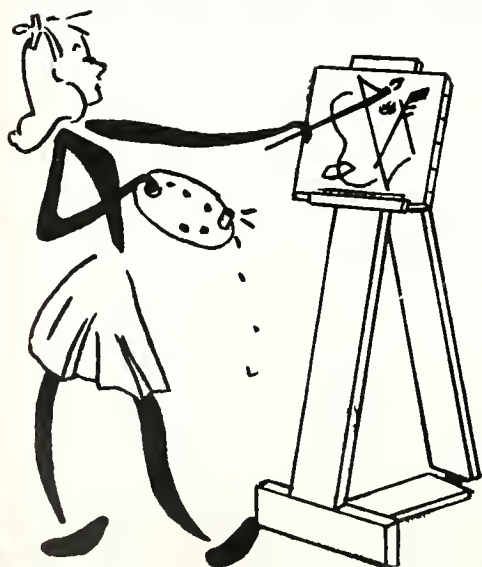

HELEN LISINSKI—On her fair face always lurks a smile.

ILA MAE LOCHBIHLER—Were silence golden, I'd be a millionaire.

DOROTHY MAE MacKENZIE — Friendship is a cadence of divine melody melting through the heart.

CLARA ELIZABETH MARSH—A sunny disposition is more valuable than gold.

a 1944
Michael Angelo

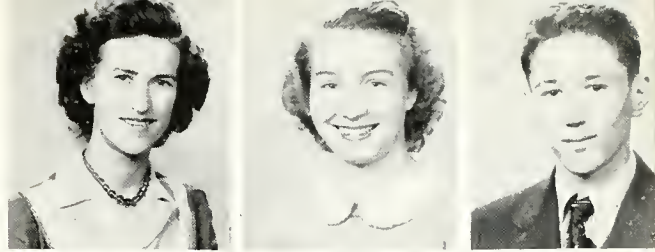

FLORA EVELYN MARSH—Friendship is one of the great pleasures in life.

MARILYN L. McKINLAY—Success does not depend so much on external help as on self-reliance.

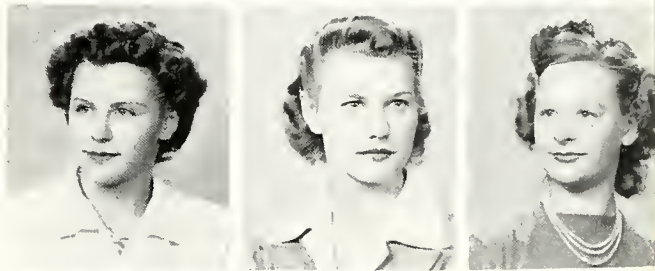

GEORGE U. McNUTT—Like the bee, we should make our industry our amusement.

VIRGINIA R. McPEEK—Cute and small, friendly to all.

ETHEL GRACE McROBBIE—Her face is sweet, and keen her mind.

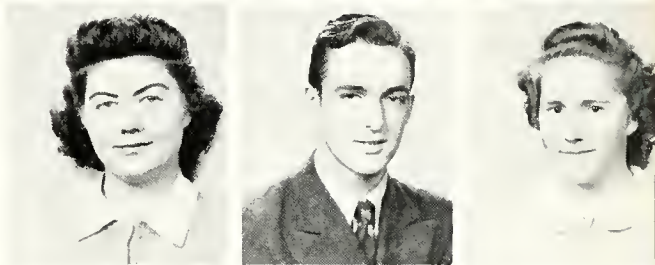

META REGINA MEY—Chatter, chatter as I go, and I go on forever.

DONNA M. MILLER—A pleasing attitude is always admirable.

RICHARD MOORE—A silent, capable lad is he.

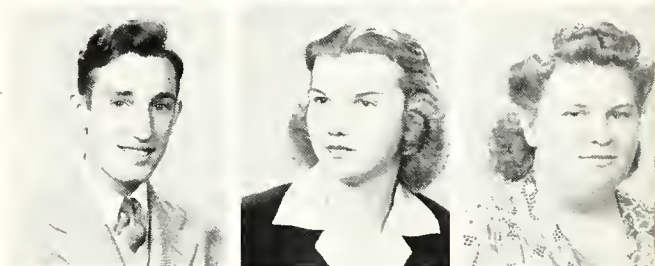

SARAH JANE MOORE—She laughs with and at the world.

WAYNE A. MORNINGSTAR—A man's good character is the world's common legacy.

MARY K. OECHSLER — Whatever is graceful is virtuous, and whatever is virtuous is graceful.

PHYLLIS E. OTT—Good humor, good nature, ready for fun.

PATRICIA ANN PAIR—A right fair maid and independent, too.

MILDRED ANNA PASELK—Modesty is of the color of virtue.

FRED LEROY PETERSON—A dynamo of energy and fun.

What happened to the 194

MARYBELLE PRATT—A quiet, dark-haired girl with a smile for everyone.

RICHARD PAUL RANDALL—Nothing endures but personal qualities.

PAUL A. REGER—The basis of good manners is self-reliance.

DOROTHY RUTH REYNOLDS—Fame must necessarily be the portion of but few.

LLOYD H. ROBERTS—It's hard to keep a good man down.

LADONNA IRENE ROOME—The only way to have a friend is to be one.

Ladonna Roome

PHIL E. RUSH—There is nothing like fun, is there?

ELAINE RUTH SCHLATTER—A genial look and a friendly smile for all.

JOHN EDWARD SCHUSTER—A patient man is a pattern for a king.

RUTH EVELYN SHAW—Happiness is a rare cosmetic.

CLIFFORD B. SIEFERT—A man of hope and forward-looking mind.

JIM W. SMALLEY—Quiet and serious, trusty and true.

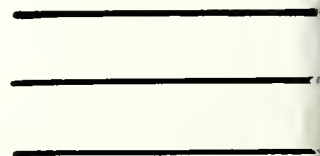

NELDA LUCILLE SMITH—A mind full of knowledge is a mind that never fails.

WALTER O. SPENCER—For science is like virtue, its own great reward.

ROBERT DANIEL STEELE—A quiet mind is richer than a crown.

Oh, doctor - my heart

GERALD NELSON STUBBS—He says little but thinks much.

GEORGE W. SUTKAITIS—Self-trust is the essence of heroism.

GEORGE SINCLAIR WADE—A good deed is never lost; he who sows courtesy reaps friendship, and he who plants kindness gathers love.

CHARLOTTE P. WEBB—Beauty is its own excuse for being.

JOAN MARIE WELDISHOFER—From labor, health; from health, contentment springs.

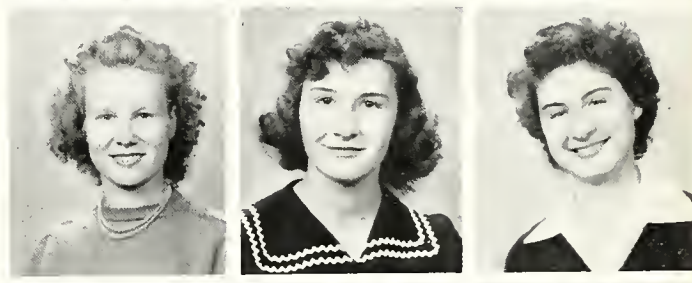

LUCILLE J. WERNER — Honest minds are pleased with honest things.

JULIA B. WHITE—Speech is great, but silence is greater.

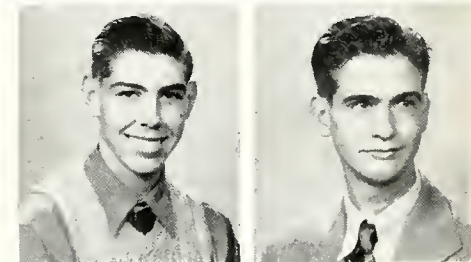

LYNNETTE W. WYANT—The true art of memory is the art of attention.

BARBARA J. YOHEY—Gaiety is the soul's health.

CHESTER WILLIAM ZWAYER—No man is so great as mankind.

CLIFFORD O. ZWAYER—The great happiness of life, I find, after all, to consist in the regular discharge of some mechanical duty.

Completed—five years at hard labor . . . only one more to go . . . ain't it wonderful? We'll be seniors next year . . . What have we done this year? Well, we like that! . . . The prom was a rollicking success . . . didn't you adore those swishy formals? . . . We all gorged ourselves at the class party in December; the juke-box really had a workout . . . We're on the beam when it comes to electing a president, referring of course to tall, dark, and handsome Bernard Black . . . Some of our lads felt the prick of patriotism and went into the service, "Slug" Clayton and Dick Glase . . . We gave some excellent debaters to our dear old school, Connie Van Orden, Helen Rader, and Len Beach—look at their marvelous record . . . Ben Marsh, our own handsome hero, ranked high in the Prince of Peace Contest . . . Basketball prospered with the aid of our hearty lads, Bob Schultz, Duane Delauter, and Dick Gingrich . . . And many of our boys became heroes during the football season—examples—"Mousie" Maurer, Harold Hall . . . Jim Fuerst thought he was a woman killer and finally decided the junior gals weren't too bad . . . Harold Iffland was the bright boy in chemistry this year; we wonder, too, why he's so bashful . . . All of us admire those beautiful brown eyes of Sue Olander . . . Joyce Davies assisted the annual staff with its art work . . . We lost our handsome adviser, Coach Thomas, to Uncle Sam . . . Our boys in the Vocational Department inaugurated some successful ideas . . . Did you ask us what we've done?—good record, hm . . . Yes, next year we'll be kings over all!

It's a long pull, but we'll make it!—only two more years to go! . . . Did you come to our party, the "Punkin' " Festival, smooth, eh? . . . But what was really cagey was the super prom we had in the spring . . . Ronald Knisely, our president, managed to squeeze us through the year without too many bruises . . . We had some of our speech makers participating in the Prince of Peace Contest—Jo Courtney, Oscar Eubank, Verna Kjoller, Dick Beach, Lou Ann Downing, Leona Held and Clark Collins . . . Some of our broad-shouldered he-men earned letters in football . . . We're proud of our zoot-suited Bracey . . . Joe Brennan and Arliss Porter played fast games of basketball, we thought . . . Upon investigation we found our treasury in a depleted state; so we sponsored a dance after the Perrysburg game . . . Our four-star cheerleaders were Jack Armstrong, Kay McConnell, Jim Brattain, and Porky Bettinger . . . Mary Hart will undoubtedly go to Hollywood after her acting in the Choric Speech play . . . What would Jo Moscoe have done if Mr. Beach hadn't come to B. H. S. . . . Our future business man, Johnny Rush, worked all year at his dad's drug store . . . Dick Chappellear was one of our heart slayers . . . We spoke our piece in Student Council through our worthy representatives . . . The last of the Hydes is now one of our play-mates . . . Wilda Guncheon is our piece of Dresden china . . . We elected Joan Hurrelbrink president of the Latin Club . . . We're expecting great things from John Jeffs in the years to come . . . We thought Billy Howard was pretty good in the All High School Play . . . That's our record for this year—we've two more to make!

Piloting our "164" was Milt Olander; he did a swell job, too . . . We're mighty proud to be "freshies," or have you noticed how we throw out our chests? . . . Among our quiz kiddies were Rita Ann Golembiewski, Velehr Huffman, Betty Kroll, Carolyn Kujawski, and Joanne Cowan . . . We all feasted on cider, doughnuts, and ice cream at our first shindig in November . . . Then in March we danced the light fantastic at our Frosh Dance . . . Star Sinatra fan of our worthy class was Ramona Gardner—she cried when she heard he was in 4-F . . . Dick De Bord sent all of our lasses swoony, and Midge Dague was the cause of many a lad's glint . . . 'Twas rumored that we sent our class advisers, Miss Graf and Mrs. Morgan, to the bughouse—we all hope the strain was not too great . . . Van Meer and "Young" Delauter did all right for themselves in the sports department—wait until 1947, Burnham will be in headlines . . . Our typical wolf is Doug Shanks—ever hear of him? . . . Can you tell the "diff" between the Robert twins—well, neither can we . . . Ruthie Minogue is the prize cheerleader . . . We think Len Detwiler is the bachelor type . . . The last Courtney coming up—our own Don . . . Billy Johnston has a famous Mamma; you've probably tried to get an excuse from her . . . The terror of Burnham—Daniel Rush—yes, he's ours too . . . Our class beauty, Carolyn Smith, causes many a heart beat . . . And how do you like the twinkle in Pat Wilson's eye . . . Another Whittaker climbing the steps to immortal fame . . . That's all we have to offer now, but watch us when we're seniors!

Every day we come closer to being in senior high school—we're trying not to act too happy about the situation . . . Oh, those mighty Beaches; we thought we'd better have one as our class president, too—so we did, none other than John . . . We topped all the classes with our wonderful class party . . . Jeanne Boyd, the cheerleaders' mascot, is still with us if you can see her . . . Keep a watch as our eighth grade basketball cagers rise to fame . . . We have our troubles, too, trying to tell the difference between Barbara and Beverly Horn; 'tis mighty confoozin' but not amoozin' . . . We predict that Joanne McKinlay will follow in her sister's foot steps and be Girl Reserves' president someday . . . Bobby Mohr has a way with him that'll make him president some day (of our class) . . . Carol Cotterman won us all over by her gorgeous smile . . . We've not been able to figure out why our teachers think we're so fast—running through the halls couldn't have any connection with the subject, of course . . . We have a pair of darling advisers, Miss Waugh and Mr. Shockey—the upper classmen told us we did a good job of choosing . . . Nancy Beveridge is our pride and joy—she helps keep our scholastic rating near the top . . . We're sorry we don't have more to say, but we unanimously decided—"That's all, there ain't no more!"

That fatal day of September 9, 1943 when we first set foot in Burnham's halls of knowledge—what a day! . . . We came from all over—Hillview, Maplewood, and Central . . . Bob Twining was our first president—we thought he did right well, too . . . Even our voices echoed in the Student Council; our "rep's" were Rose Bender and Jim Yeager . . . All of us had loads of fun at our party in May—we can hardly wait until we're seniors, that'll be some fun . . . Fritz Kirkby was our seventh grade Romeo and Norma Borucki, our Juliet . . . Even we have students on the honor roll, as Jimmy Faunce, Frances Reed, Lois Jean Wandtke, Louis Lado, and Duane Luse . . . Our elders tell us we've a lot to learn yet—maybe so; we do admit we're a little boisterous at times . . . Don Twining is our future Charles Boyer! Did you see him in "Eternal Life?" . . . We thought Nancy Shanks looked nice with her bangs—about 1952 she should be in Vogue . . . Some of our girls have wonderful singing voices—we all feel sure they'll be famous someday . . . Miss Groll has been frantically trying to teach us how to dance—we're doing something, not just sure what! . . . Some of our lads were accepted by the Projection Club, including Bill Harmon and Dick Wilson . . . good, what? . . . We don't have much of a record now, but our teachers think we're revolutionary!

Things to Come In

Once upon a time, many, many years in the future—1954 to be exact—a handsome knight, in quest of a fair princess, was traveling throughout the universe in his rocket ship. After many months of fruitless search, he came at last to the province of Sylvania. Bringing his ship to rest on the newly-constructed rocket field, he was greeted by a group of field attendants, George Sutkaitis, Leroy Breier, "Pete" Peterson, and Ronald Brining, who ran out to service his ship. Making his way through a crowd of townspeople standing around the gates, he entered the glass brick building which housed the offices of the United Rocket Lines, INC., Robert Beach, President. Returning the dazzling smile of the pretty receptionist, Charlotte Webb, he inquired his whereabouts. She referred him to the company's public relations manager, personable Edwin Brattain (also Beach's "silent" partner) who at once took him on a tour of the building which had been designed by Engineer Paul Reger, well-known for his modern construction. Passing the switchboard where Operator Jeanette Helman was going slowly mad with the many calls coming in, they came to the main office where all business was carried on. Amid the hum of countless electric typewriters being run by Stenographers Jeanette Kubitz, Sarah Moore, La Donna Roome, and Evelyn Kubitz, they saw the office manager, Elaine Schlatter, rushing here and there in frantic haste, trying to keep track of Bookkeepers Ila Bettinger, Lucille Werner, and Doris Condon who were trying to teach File Clerks Meta Mey and Julia White some new square dances. In one corner sat the company statistics expert, Gerald Stubbs. In another corner sat Secretaries Clara Marsh, Ila Lochbihler, Louise Lado, and Betty Hiller playing bridge while waiting for their respective bosses to return from lunch. Leaving the offices, they went to the testing laboratory where they found chief chemist, Nelda Smith, supervising the experiments of Joan Weldishofer, Norman Bowers, and Jack Kitchen, who were working on a formula to make a useful plastic from chewed bubble gum. While there, he walked Bette Franklin and Ruth Lenert, test pilots, to inform them of the faults of a rocket ship they had just tested. Upon leaving the lab, they ran into Repairmen Bob Steele, Clifford Zwayer, Julius Jennewine, Ruddy Hartkopf and Clif Siefert who were departing to work at the South American branch of the company, headed by James Christensen.

Completing his tour, the prince, glancing out the window, saw that the crowd was still waiting at the gates of the field. Asking Eddie the reason, he was told that they were waiting for the rocket ship from Hollywood on which the noted actress, Vanya Varga (Mary Oechsler to the townspeople) was arriving. Then leaving the building, he approached the crowd and, standing to one side, he searched the faces around him still mindful of his dream maiden.

First in line to greet Miss Varga and present to her the keys of the province was the mayor, Lloyd Roberts. She was then handed a large bouquet of roses ($5.00 a dozen at Helen's Flower Shop—Helen Lisinski, proprietor) by Dorothy MacKenzie, the President of the Women's Club. She was then shown to the waiting helicopter piloted by Richard Miller, one of a large fleet of taxis owned and managed by Gordon Huss, and flown to the Philmar Hotel, run by Phil Rush. Dashing out to take her bags was Bellhop Paul Lajiness. Entering the hotel, she was greeted by the room clerk, James Smalley. In the meantime, having thought Miss Varga a likely prospect for his princess fair, the prince followed her to the hotel only to find she had retired to her suite with her hairdresser, June Gardner, to prepare herself for the parade and banquet that evening. The prince, having considerable time to kill before the "blow-out," decided to look Sylvania over. Leaving the Philmar, he crossed Spencer Street, (formerly Main Street, but changed to honor Walter Spencer, President of the United States) to the Kasablanka Klub, where the floor show starred Osie Coleman, "Mistress of Boogie-Woogie," at the piano; the orchestra of Wayne Morningstar, with "Hot Lips" Lather and his trumpet; vocalist, Ruth Reynolds; acrobatic dancer, Wayva Comstock; and chorus girls, Fern Allen, Jean Courtney, Betty Jacobs, Martha Jacobs, and Hazel Bloom. Handing his hat to the hat check girl, Patricia Pair, he wandered to the bar where the bartender, Preston Curry, served him. After spending several hours in the Klub, he decided to see more of the town. He had been told of the noted Veterans' Hospital on Summit Street. So he wandered over to see it. At its head was Dr. Joanne Kaiser, with Supervisor of Nurses, Suzanne Corrigan. The staff doctors were Harold Flagg, Robert Fowler, and Lynnette Wyant, with Joanne Corrigan supervising the research department. Glancing at his watch, the prince saw that it was time for the parade. He then hastily made his way to the corner of Maplewood and Phillips where it was to start. Leading it were Drum Majorettes Virginia McPeck and Bette Hott. Next was the float which carried Marybelle Pratt, "Miss Sylvania of 1954," and her court, Mary Fox, Mildred Paselk, Jeanne Bowers, and Ruth Shaw. The next float carried Ethel McRobbie, "Miss Liberty," and her attendants, Colleen Brock, Barbara Yoey, and Marjorie Fisher. And then came the float carrying the four Hollywood starlets who had accompanied Miss Varga—Dolores Fillion, "Miss Silica;" Donna Miller, "Miss Reynolds Corners;" Rose Ann Creque, "Miss Richfield Center;" and Doris Kjoller, "Miss Berkey." Last came the open car carrying

The World of 1954

Miss Varga, the mayor, and Juanita Breier, famed Metropolitan opera star who was on a personal appearance tour.

The parade continued to the hotel, and there a banquet was held. Taking charge of the program was Master of Ceremonies, George Wade (also the city's leading undertaker), who introduced the first speaker, Carolyn Chandler, B.A., M.A., D.D.S., Ph.D., the editor of the "Sylvania Skyline," whose topic for the evening was "My Week." Amid the roar of applause following her speech, George introduced the second speaker, Marilyn McKinlay, owner and manager of the city's largest dairy. As she completed her speech on "The Value of Milk for Children of All Ages," Wayne Armstrong, chief photographer on the "Skyline" snapped her picture, while in the background stood Chief Waiters W. H. Hoskins and Allan Hewitt. Further entertainment was furnished when a group of students from the School of Modern Dance, operated by Anne Baumgartner, presented an interpretative number. The Master of Ceremonies introduced Margaret Dings, supervisor of the local Red Cross unit, who in turn honored Miss Varga with an honorary membership. Handsome escorts, Chester Zwayer, Bruce Alcott, Wayne Farley, John Schuster, Roy Knicely, and Dick Randall, had been provided by the Deluxe Date Distributors, Inc., managed by Carl Dorcas. As the evening drew to a close, the prince decided that Vanya Varga was his choice of a dream maiden, and as the guests began to depart, he went to Vanya, fell to his knees before her, and in a most princely fashion, proffered his proposal, which she thrillingly accepted. They then left for the rocket field in a helicopter (under the watchful eye of George McNutt, the Chief of Police) to fly to the prince's castle. And so our fairy tale ends on a happy note, for they (as is customary with all fairy stories) lived happily ever after.

We Hereby Bequeath—

We, the Senior Class of 1944, being of sound health and right mind (?) on this first day of June, do hereby bequeath to all the lower classmen (those lucky people who will soon take over the many duties, responsibilities, and dignities of being a senior) our poise, our self-reliance, our nonchalance, and our studious attitude:

We give them all the right to run Burnham as they have always wanted to, the right to frown upon all underclassmen, the right to make the most of their final year of high school.

And individual bequests are the following:

George Wade—my height to "Schultzie."

Corrigan twins—our dancing to Luana Smith.

Anne Baumgartner—my long, black, wavy hair to Peggy Richardson.

Ruth Lenert—my athletic aptitude to Shirley Hall.

Carl Dorcas—my tenor voice to Floyd Obernour.

Phil Rush—my football technique and nickname to "Whitey" Zumbrunn.

Lloyd Roberts—my pipe and derby to Harold Iffland.

Bachelor Club—our strict rules (and our ability to stick to them) to the "Esquires."

Bob Lather—my "streamline shape" to Pat Corrigan.

Jeanette Helman—my artistic talent to Joyce Davies.

Bob Beach—my success with women to my brother, Len.

Jeannette Kubitz—my neatness to Donna Lou Kahle.

Dorothy MacKenzie—my "gift of gab" to Virginia Slayton.

Joanne Kaiser—my struttin' ability to Pattie Niswander.

Jeanne and Norman Bowers—our family ties to the Blacks.

Eddie Brattain—my number 12 shoes to Dean Luse to fill.

W. H. Hoskins—my wolfing technique to Ken Eckert.

Roy Knicely—my physique to Jack Armstrong.

Nelda Smith—my knack for physics to Mary Alice Fritsch.

Ruth Reynolds—my size to Ann Rush.

Theatrical Reminiscences

Footlight followers found plenty of entertainment in Thespian activities throughout year . . . Burnham long noted for abundant dramatic ability, continued fine record with full program of melodrama, comedy, farce, etc. . . . Choric Speech, Drama, Thespian Clubs, public speaking classes provided wealth of future Bette Davises and Cary Grants, who portrayed characters from 6 to 60 . . . under the very able direction of Miss Fairchild, dramatic coach . . . manpower shortage was solved by selection of plays with large feminine casts . . . junior males were recruited to take masculine leads when loss of seniors to armed forces became acute . . . season off to a good start with All-High-School play . . . "Don't Take My Penny," on October 27 . . . plot concerned 16-year-old Penny (Mary Oechsler) who prepared self to play star role in movie version of popular novel . . . author (Carl Dorcas) in search of ideal actress, came to Penny's town, but Sally, the maid (Judy Minogue), also planned to have role . . . Penny's boy friend, (Ben Marsh), sister, Mavis (Sue Olander), and parents, (Carolyn Chandler, Lloyd Roberts) all entered into fun when rivalry grew . . . one-act plays provided "short but sweet" entertainment to student assemblies . . . first, November 5, was "Not Quite Such a Goose" presented by first period public speaking class . . . play centered around 17-year-old Albert (Bob Beach) who preferred baseball and huckleberry pudding to girls until Hazel (Luana Smith), a friend of his sister, Sylvia (Rose Ann Creque), came into his life . . . tables turned when fun Albert has made of Philip, Sylvia's beau (Gerry Stubbs), is applied to him by his mother (Jean Courtney) . . . second one-act drama was "The Printer Is a Devil," November 19, commemorating Book Week . . . story of the invention of the printing press by John Gutenberg (Carl Dorcas) as told to Christine (Wilda Guncheon) and John (Clark Collins) by their father (John Rush) . . . "Love's Gift," Christmas play, December 22, was third in one-act play series . . . real meaning of Christmas, the spirit of charity and giving, provided theme . . . cast, including Delores Fillion as Sarah, Mary Fox as the little rich girl, Phil Rush as Jonathon, came from the eighth period public speaking class . . . January 17, Choric Speech presented "Come Out of It," one-act play which dealt with the mysteries of hypnotism . . . plot revolved around Harold (Ronald Knisely) who learned the art of hypnotizing and soon found it had amusing effects on rest of family, namely Aunt Sarah, (JoAnne Courtney), his sister, Sylvia (Colleen Carroll), and her boy friend, (Arthur Link) . . . "Safety Pins First," February 11, was fifth on chain of one-act plays . . . noted author with a broken suspender (Ken Eckert), a fraternity pin belonging to Bill (Floyd Obenour), and worn by his girl friend, Mary Ann, a librarian, (Bette Franklin) all add to the excitement of a mistaken identity in this farce . . . high spot of the year in drama was reached with Public Speaking Night . . . "Tons of Fun," March 31 . . . presented an evening of real hilarity and laughter plus some genuine drama, and a liberal sprinkling of music . . . climaxing the season was the annual senior play . . . huge success!

Leap Year! Hear! Here

Leap year—1944 . . . the year girls wait for, boys wish were past . . . open season on all eligible males for girls from 6 to 66 . . . 366 days of living in mortal fear of being caught by some purposeful "lonely heart" for all boys, tall, dark, or handsome . . . the loss of so many of Burnham's "favorite sons" to the Army, Navy, etc. made the sex even more aware of Leap Year's opportunities . . . leap year is different . . . so were happenings in and around Burnham . . . everything was vice-versa . . . with the old routine of "boy chases girl, boy gets girl" reversed to "girl chases boy," anything could happen . . . such as Wilda Guncheon in wild frenzied pursuit of Bill Woodward . . . or Ken Eckert going steady . . . and imagine Bill Weldishofer surrounded by a bevy of blondes . . . picture Dean Luse six feet tall and weighing 240 . . . or how about Ruth Reynolds without a smile . . . and Mary Lou Adams with ten men in tow . . . or Ruth Minogue pursuing males in vain . . . Roy Knicey—a bookworm (complete with horn-rimmed spectacles!) . . . Jim Smalley voted "Most Talkative Senior" . . . Wayne Armstrong "in love with love" . . . Mary Fox our loudest cheerleader . . . and Phil Rush a woman-hater . . . only in Leap Year could it happen . . . things are upside down and people take advantage of it to be different . . . it only comes every four years . . . so bear up and wait for 1948.

Burnham High

We love thy sacred name, O Burnham High

Your praise forever we will shout to the sky.

Cheer for the black and gold, our colors true

O Burnham High School, we honor you.

Alma

Mater

Three cheers for Burnham High—three cheers for you,

Thy sons and daughters fair pay tribute true,

Tho' we may roam afo' o'er land and sea,

Honor and loyalty we pledge to thee.
